

Translate from English to Latin:

Scintilla is tired, but she works in the house. Horatia is not in the house. Soon Scintilla is tired, and Horatia is hungry. Horatia enters the house, but dinner is not ready. Scintilla hurries and soon dinner is ready. Horatia is happy.

The next day, Scintilla walks to the shops, but Horatia works in the house. Soon Scintilla returns and enters the house. Dinner is on the table. Scintilla is happy. Horatia is tired and happy. Soon Scintilla eats.

Match each Latin word with an English derivative:

- | | | |
|----|----------------|-------------------|
| 1. | laborat | Derivative: _____ |
| 2. | intrat | Derivative: _____ |
| 3. | parata | Derivative: _____ |
| 4. | ambulat | Derivative: _____ |
| 5. | femina | Derivative: _____ |

feminine, entrance, preparation, laborious, amble, introduction, labors, parasol, feminism, perambulate
--

Choose one of the derivatives you selected and use it in a sentence which clearly demonstrates its meaning:

Derivative: _____

Sentence: _____
